BASE BALL

Clareholm Defeats Stavely In a Close Game

On Tuesday last the Clareholm base ball boys again succeeded in vanquishing their opponents—the Stavely team—in a well fought game on the local diamond.

The Stavely team came down on the noon train and had a good bunch of rooters with them. The play began about 2 o'clock with Stavely leading the stick. The last innings resulted in a shut out for both sides. In the 2nd Stavely got two runs and shut Clareholm out. The third was a straight one of one, two, three, on both sides. The Clareholm boys now began to realize that they were up against a team that could play ball almost as well as they could themselves so they settled down to good steady work and in the fourth after shutting out their opponents they made four runs. The fifth sixth and seventh being in a shut out and were shut out. In the last half of the eighth the local team seemed to get careless and Stavely taking advantage of it ran in five runs this put them three runs in the lead but in the 2nd half Clareholm got three and evened the score. The ninth was again a determination on both sides to win but Stavely did the trick by fanning one man and putting two others out at first off light infield hits. The last half of this inning began with J. E. Moffatt who got a safe one base hit. He was followed by Getts with a two sack and then by Pirie with another two sacker which brought both Moffatt and Getts home this winning the game by 9 to 7 with none out.

The game was clean, well fought and exciting from start to finish. There were no sensational features, no errors and hit were about evenly divided. Getts shut out his opponents seven times and the Stavely pitcher six times. Brown is doing remarkable good work behind the bat seeing that this was only his second game in that position and Gett seems to be attaining good staying powers.

Bad Accident

While the ball game was in progress Tuesday afternoon the few people who were left along Railway street witnessed the worst runaway accident that has occurred here for some time. The injured were Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. Fredrickson. These two ladies were driving down Railway street when in passing the new Crossing between Walker & Hanson office and the C. P. R. the horse became frightened and started to run down the street at a very fast gallop in front of the medical hall one of the reins broke and the horse turn sharply upsetting the buggy and threw the occupants out into a mud hole that was nearby. Assistance was close at hand and the ladies were taken to a near by shop and Dr. Steeves summoned. At first it was thought that both ladies were seriously injured but Mrs. Fredrickson escaped with a severe shaking up. Mrs. Nelson was not so fortunate and at time of writing is still under the Doctors care.

Communication

To the Editor Review.

Dear Sir:

Would you allow me a short space in your paper to express my views and to ask for information on the present state of civic affairs.

Now, Sir: though a comparatively recent citizen of your town and since my arrival an interested reader of your paper, I have been struck by the lack of interest which is shown by the citizens generally in affairs pertaining to the city, especially as regards open criticism of civic affairs through the press, which appears to me as the best way of showing the Council that as citizens we are alive to our own interests and are watching with approval or otherwise the measures which are being enacted on our behalf.

A few particular matters appear to me to deserve special consideration at the hands of the council and I would like to detail them under these respective headings, viz: 1st and principally "WATER," 2nd "SEWERAGE," and "STREETS."

And last but not least the public health, especially in regard to removal of nuisances.

Under the first heading I think everyone is in accord with the wish in this conviction that something should be done and that speedily to remedy the present hand to mouth system which is at present in vogue. It is useless now to discuss past events or past mistakes. It is ours to use the present and use it speedily. We have now a town and a growing one at that with a population in the neighborhood of 1,100 people. If we wish the town to grow and become, as we believe I will, a city of 3 or 4,000 people there is no question more vital than this same one of water supply. We have the advantage of a young town of seeing for ourselves the effects of installing any water system which may not be adequate, not only for the present time, but for the future, as instanced by the city of Winnipeg in their present trouble over the same question. The present need would seem to be for an adequate and permanent water supply and in spite of promises of well boring machinery from a long-suffering government nothing has materialized in this line and even if machinery arrives within the next sixty days it would probably be six months before the water would be turned into the mains. Under these circumstances it would appear to me that our source of supply lies at Willow Creek or in the immediate vicinity thereof and I would strongly recommend that the Council would employ an expert to report and act upon his suggestions at once.

2nd.—The sewerage question will ultimately depend upon the water supply. At present things seem to be any way at all. No sewerage service has been instituted and I understand that deep closets are prohibited by recent ordinance. However, enough said on this subject, it will doubtless right itself when we have good sewage of fever or diptheria and before the previous experience of Delorane.

3rd.—In regard to our streets perhaps we should not say to much at this juncture. The street committee are doing good progressive work in the way of putting down sidewalks. The roads are still in such a shape that the water mains could be newly tiled from some of the small lakes in their centers but doubtless the street committee have already decided to put the grade on all our principal streets, especially those in the business section and have them properly levelled and rolled.

Fourthly.—The warning in regard to closets, etc., applies generally to many manure heaps of ancient date lying about our town, and to dirty back yards and unsanitary premises. The Health officer is undoubtedly bearing these things in mind and we hope within the early future use his authority to have matters properly adjusted and the city thoroughly cleaned.

In conclusion I would state that this letter is written without prejudice whatever to the Council, and feeling that they will be only too glad to have a little friendly criticism and suggestions from the citizens and I hope that the discussion thus started may result in some permanent good in the advancement of the best interests of our town.

Thanking you for the space afforded me by your country.

Yours Truly,

W. A. Cornwall.

Died

By the death of Mr. F. L. Miller yesterday morning Clareholm loses one of her best known citizens. About a week ago Mr. Miller was around his business as usual but on Friday he was stricken with pneumonia and gradually grew worse until release came in death at ten minutes to twelve yesterday. There is a wife and five small children left to mourn his loss, the funeral which will be held on Saturday at 10 a. m. It will be in charge of the Odd Fellows and the Alberts Rangers. The "Review" extends sympathy to the bereaved family and friends.

THAT SPRING FEVER.

Annual Garden Deluge of the Suburban, Loring's Map.

"You the principal looking man entered the seedman's place and said, 'Give me this order please.'"

"Yes, sir," from the polite clerk with the pencil in hand and a facial expression smiling that of the spangled star awaits his master's throwing a stick into the water. You could be imagining the clerk was the clerk was the clerk.

"One package of cauliflower seed—"

"Yes, but you see—"

"Shut up! Put down what I order. One package of cauliflower seed—got it. All right. Two packages of cabbage seed—"

"Yes, but you buy plants already—"

"Did you get my order to shut up? Continue taking down what I say and don't volunteer any information—three packages of radish seed, two papers of lettuce seed, one peck of onion sets, a quart of seed peas, half a peck of bean seeds."

"Wait a minute. Now, go ahead."

"That's all."

"Well, where do you want it sent?"

"Send! Send nothing. Do you suppose I want all that stuff littering up my library or kitchen or attic?"

"Of course I don't. I've in time for that sort of thing. I just have the garden fever each spring the same as any other govtommed idiot, and the only way I can reduce my temperature is to go and order a lot of rubbish like this."

"For it, I feel like a fool and go home cured. How much does it come to? Hurry or I'll miss my train!"

Judge.

Idle Mrs. Giles.

"Your young wife appears to be rather blue of late," ventured the country doctor to Farmer Giles.

"Yess," drawled the old farmer with the bunch of rabbit skins under his arm, "she is one of those city gals, and I'm afraid she hasn't enough to occupy her mind."

"Think not?"

"Well, no. After she has milked ten cows before breakfast, and cooked breakfast for the plowmen, and fed the pigs and chickens, and started washing, and put dinner on, and put up preserves, and shelled a bushel of peas, and done some ironing, and put supper on, and done the darning, and patched for the household, and peeled a couple of pounds of apples for tomorrow's dinner, why, she hasn't anything more to do until bedtime. I think I'll turn her how to make our own oil cake for the cows, so her mind will be more occupied. Yes, indeed, the only way to keep a wife smiling and happy is to keep her mind occupied."—YIP-HIA.

Tommy Knew.

"Which one of your fellows was here last night, sater?" said the irrepressible Tommie at breakfast.

"I'll not tell you," replied the young lady.

"No, you don't know, either."

"I do. It was the fellow with the beard. Your child's all scratched up!"

"You must be crazy!" said the grandfather on the mother's side. "The idea of giving little Willie an automobile! Do you want the child to kill himself and everybody else or wreck the premises?"

"Well, look at you!" snorted the grandfather on the father's side. "Didn't you give him an air rifle and a box of tools?"—Judge.

Embarrassing.

There was no room in the omnibus, and the beautiful Mr. B. took his little girl on his knee. Enter a beautiful young lady, feeling her, the little girl calls out at the top of her voice:

"Oh, papa, I'll give this lady my seat!"

Confusion of Mr. B. and hasty retreat of lady.—Slovo.

That agriculture would be benefited by his destruction is conceded by all, and we would urge upon the farmers the necessity of a war against it at this pest. The most economical form of this warfare is probably strychnine poisoning. A few grains of poisoned wheat dropped in his hole will be greedily eaten after his want winter fare and cause him to sleep the sleep that knows no waking. Some local improvement councils with the destruction of gophers to view, purchased large quantities of strychnine to be distributed to the farmers throughout the district, and we would urge the necessity of concerted action on the part of the farmers. A few farmers using the poison in a township will have little effect if the rest are doing nothing. All must work together.

The gopher is very productive three or four litters of young with three to eight to a litter, the first litter producing the same season, so that the gophers destroyed at this season mean a great saving of time labor and money later on.

Hawks, owls and badgers are his natural enemies and do a great deal toward holding this pest in check, and even though they do make an occasional depredation on the farm yard, should be spared, for surely the laborer is worthy of his hire.

A good investment, too, is to buy a trap and small rides for the boys.

Destroy the Gopher

The common gopher is an animal that need no description, but a word as to his habit might not be out of place. He of the squirrel family and hibernates similarly to the squirrel. During the summer months he lives on the growing grain, causing great destruction in every grain field. Where grain is not grown he is forced to subsist on the less succulent prairie grass until the settler cultivates the land.

That agriculture would be benefited by his destruction is conceded by all, and we would urge upon the farmers the necessity of a war against it at this pest. The most economical form of this warfare is probably strychnine poisoning. A few grains of poisoned wheat dropped in his hole will be greedily eaten after his want winter fare and cause him to sleep the sleep that knows no waking.

Some local improvement councils with the destruction of gophers to view, purchased large quantities of strychnine to be distributed to the farmers throughout the district, and we would urge the necessity of concerted action on the part of the farmers. A few farmers using the poison in a township will have little effect if the rest are doing nothing. All must work together.

The gopher is very productive three or four litters of young with three to eight to a litter, the first litter producing the same season, so that the gophers destroyed at this season mean a great saving of time labor and money later on.

Hawks, owls and badgers are his natural enemies and do a great deal toward holding this pest in check, and even though they do make an occasional depredation on the farm yard, should be spared, for surely the laborer is worthy of his hire.

A good investment, too, is to buy a trap and small rides for the boys.

They can do much to exterminate the gopher, and should be encouraged in every way to destroy them.

Cheaper School Books

Premier Wiltshire of Ontario is to be congratulated upon the fulfillment of his promise to reduce the price of a school books or know the reason why? Wednesday it is shown that far long years a monopoly, has existed which controlled the issue of the public school books of Ontario.

That such a monopoly existed and that prices were exorbitant is shown by the fact that the Canada Publishing Co., offer to publish the same series of books of a standard quality and sell them for less than one half the price.—EX.

Wiggin's Moons Caused

All the Trembles

Ottawa, June 3.—Professor Wiggin, the well known Canadian astronomer, attributes the prevalent cold weather to the influence of a second moon in the heavens, whose existence he discovered a quarter of a century ago, and which is now at the point of its orbit nearest the earth and producing phenomena in the earth's atmosphere.

"Isn't our climate growing colder?" the professor was asked.

"No," he replied, "the earth is slowly receding from the sun and temperature is therefore rising."

Professor Wiggin's theory is that on the contrary if all planets were moved ten million miles nearer the sun the temperatures would fall on every one of them several degrees. The earth, he says, is slowly receding from the sun and the temperature is rising. In the Bobby on the Human Body.

The human body was first supposed to be made up of 208 bones, but later discoveries have developed the fact that it contains 208 bones and an appendix. An appendix is something that is added on, like a wing on a woman's letter not means about as much. Its principal use is to afford a revenue for doctors and surgery specialists. Operations on the human system are the correct thing for a doctor. As says there is a woman in our town who has nothing left in her but her pelvis and her tongue, she has been operated on several times. Last Sunday our Sunday school text was "Praise the Lord, oh my soul, and all that is within me." I said to pa, "Mrs. Sanderson wouldn't be very strong if that would she?" And he laughed and said no.

A railroad brakeman is in a class by himself. He doesn't have any money in his body. I know a brakeman, chairman of a grievance committee of ten, and when he goes to count the members of the committee on his fingers he can never get a quorum because he hasn't enough fingers left.

It says in my physiology that in the human frame is a network of nerves, a sort of system of wires which carry messages to and from the brain. For instance, if you put your finger on a hot stove the nerves of the arm carry a message to your brain and your finger is getting injured, and your brain flashes back instructions to take your finger off the stove. The other night I put my finger in a can of jam in the pantry when my carter sent a message to my brain that ma was coming. My brain answered back to take my finger out but the message was delayed in transmission and I didn't move quick enough. Ma caught me. For a few minutes the wires running up my spine to my brain were crowded with good government messages as to what was going on on the firing line. Now when I go to sleep my brain advises my arms to put a pillow on the chair.—Bobby is Judge.

The Colonial Premiers

In TRUTH OF—April 24th there appeared the following personal opinion of the leading Colonial Premiers who were present at the conference:

"During the past week I have been privileged to listen to speeches by all the Colonial Premiers who have been met in evidence. General B. B. who has been the lion of the party, is the most impressive as a speaker, not because he addresses his audience through an interpreter but for the simple reason that he is a man of few words. He is generally terse with men of action his few words are invariably direct to the point, and no one who hears him will ever doubt that he means what he says. He has a most captivating manner, especially when he smiles, and you need not be long in his company to learn that he is the sort of man whom it is better to have for a friend than an enemy."

[Sir Wilfrid Laurier is the most attractive speaker among the visitors, as well as the most picturesque figure. His speech, manner and appearance are suggestive of a French noble who has been dunned in the States and acquired a slight American vernacular. Sir Joseph Ward, on the other hand, might have been reared on the Stock Exchange. He is terse, business-like and seems immersed in affairs. Of the whole party, the one who approaches most closely the idea of a democratic politician is Mr. Dinkin. He has all the qualities that go to make a successful platform speaker in this country—not glib or flowery, but fluent and forcible, never at a loss for a word, always using the right one. One evening he delivered a statement a riddle-giving, with just the right amount of feeling or sentiment to command sympathy, and now another evening he delivered a speech of real eloquence. I should judge Mr. Dinkin to be a busy advocate to tackle in a debate and that he is not without some of the qualities which put Mr. Chamberlain in the forefront of politics. If all our visitors, he is the one who is most impressed with the importance of his mission, and most zealous of teaching the mother country how to run an Empire. But the English-speaking people of each of the English-speaking provinces, I should say, convinced that his own State occupies the first place in the family circle. This is natural and we are leaving it to the right of that any of them overbid, but Sir Wilfrid Laurier is the wisest of them all."

New Mining Town

Reference, June 9.—Reference Alberta is the seat of operations of the Western Coal Mining Co. Ltd. A post office will be established at an early date and C. P. R. passenger train will stop at or June 15. The Colliery company is now shipping thirty tons of coal per day. By June 15, it is expected, the daily output will be 200 tons or over. The general equipment of the mine is strictly up-to-date and capable of handling 2,000 tons of the clay. By June 15 the company will commence sorting for artesian water and natural gas. A waterworks system will be installed as soon as an artesian supply is found and if not procurable, a pipe line will be laid from river. An electric lighting plant is among the proposition likely to be soon carried into effect. The company will build over twenty houses for employees this summer and many business houses are projected. A good hotel is now under construction and a school will be built at once.—Ex.

DR. FARMING

Address will be Held in
I.O.O.F. Hall, Wednesday the 26th

The Department of Agriculture has arranged for a series of meetings to be addressed by Prof. H. W. Campbell, of Lincoln, Nebraska, the man who devised what is called "The Campbell System of Culture for semi-arid Districts." Under his system the soil moisture is conserved and excellent crops are obtained. This system is sometimes called "dry farming." It is applicable to Southern Alberta, and no man should miss Prof. Campbell's address at Clareholm on Wednesday June 26th at 10 a. m. in Odd Fellows Hall this address means money and profit for every farmer.

Supreme Court

The Court sat in chambers Monday forenoon. At the afternoon session the case of Rex vs. Frank Fair was heard, and also Rex vs. M. O. Toole.

Frank Fair charge with obtaining money under false pretences. The testimony in the case tended to prove that Fair had sold a horse to Ralph Dooley the livery stable man at Clareholm. That he had previously mortgaged the same horse to parties in security of money owing them and had no right therefore, to sell it. Fair was found guilty and sentenced to one month in the jail. O. H. Haslen represented the defendant.

M. O. Toole pleaded not guilty to the charge of cattle stealing. It was claimed by the prosecution that O'Toole had near his ranch at Nanton, stolen a cow belonging to Smith Bros.

The son of the accused testified that the cow in question had come onto their ranch during the severe cold spell of last winter, and had with other cattle died there. That his father the accused, had advertised in a Nanton paper in an effort to locate the owner. That there were no brands visible on the cow they had finally skinned the animal and hung the hide up in the granary to secure payment of the expense of advertising. When the Smiths came to look for the cow O'Toole had willingly shown them the hide and also the carcass.

As the evidence did not show any intent of stealing on the part of the accused he was found not guilty. M. Viery, assisted by Joseph Hicks represented O'Toole. The case of Rex vs. Dr. McDermid was charged with having killed the death of Jacob Dixon a young Indian at his ranch near Nanton, by giving him an overdose of whiskey. The accused was represented by P. J. Nolan and J. E. Varty.

The following jurors were selected J. A. Struthers, D. J. Hill, W. A. Leher, W. Skelding W. F. Parker, D. H. Munson.

The main witnesses for the prosecution, were Marie and Mary Alice Dixon, wife and daughter of the deceased Jacob Dixon. Both are full blood stoney Indians. The daughter is but thirteen years old, George McLean also a full blood stoney, acted as interpreter.

A good part of the day was spent in the testimony of Dr. Keen of Nanton and Dr. Carlton of Regina. Dr. Keen testified to making the post mortem examination on the body of Dixon and Dr. Carlton had had analyzed the stomach and other organs. The defence did not call any witnesses.

P. J. Nolan in summing up for the accused drew attention to the probable unreliable evidence of the squaws and wished the jury to consider the testimony of Dr. Carlton as to the quantity of Scotch whiskey which he considered a fatal dose. In this expert testimony was all in accordance with the facts as verified by experience, said Mr. Nolan. Macdonald would have liked since lost some of her best and oldest citizens.

Judge Harvey gave his charge without leaving his seat and in a very short time the jury returned a verdict of not guilty.
